TO WORLD WAR II*

BAHAMIAN WOMEN WHO SERVED IN THE BRITISH AUXILIARY TERRITORIAL SERVICE (A.T.S.)

WHAT WAS THE A.T.S.?

The A.T.S. (Auxiliary Territorial Service) was the Women's Branch of The Royal British Army during World War II. It was established on 9th September, 1938 initially as a women's voluntary service and existed until 1st February, 1949, when it was merged into the Women's Royal Army Corps.

Jobs performed by these women included: cooks, office clerks, telephone operators, motorbike messengers, vehicle engineers, ambulance and lorry drivers.

Our Bahamian Women who served in this Division of the Royal British Army were captured in the book entitled: "The Brave Eleven" written by The Late Ruth Clarke-Goodridge, B.E.M.
